BOK Financial Mortgage names Lee Wardlow Director of Loan Servicing

Tulsa -- (March 1, 2018) – BOK Financial Mortgage, a division of BOK Financial (NASDAQ: BOKF), has named mortgage veteran Lee Wardlow to lead the company's loan servicing business. Wardlow most recently served 15 years in a mortgage servicing leadership role at Bank of America in Dallas.

Wardlow brings more than 25 years of mortgage servicing industry experience to BOK Financial Mortgage. His diverse experience includes leading mortgage servicing operations, subservicing, servicing transfers, strategic portfolio management and transaction management. Prior to Bank of America, Wardlow developed subservicing for various industry participants.

"Lee has a strong history of leading multiple servicing streams like ours while ensuring quality for clients is met," said Glenn Bruner, president of BOK Financial Mortgage. "His demonstrated leadership for some of the country's largest mortgage companies makes him an excellent addition to our team and I'm eager to watch him apply his extensive industry expertise for continued growth of the bank."

Based in Dallas, Wardlow will lead all mortgage servicing functions for BOK Financial Mortgage including servicing, non-performing servicing, servicing administration, cash and investor accounting.

BOK Financial Mortgage's servicing arm topped $23.1 billion in 2018, which represents 144,000 customers across the U.S.
